My name is Vaishali and I am mother of 3 young kids.

I have been observing the California Framework modification process.

I understand that committee has rejected most of the edits in last 2+ months provided by many practicing Hindus and Californian parents like me. I also understand that your recent supplement on 14-Mar contains many suggestions from South Asia professors, as the process with your Instructional Quality Committee reaches last phase for this cycle.

I have some understanding of how the edits of other cultures and religions were considered for framework inclusion in the past framework cycle.

I have read thru the justifications provided by South Asian group in late last year and early this year, for their submissions.

These edits recommended by your body California History Social Science Project, contain the material that reflects adversely upon me as a Hindu, my children, and my religion. I feel being discriminated on the basis of my religion and my heritage.

Sincerely
Vaishali Vaval
